

Remember a name for a face: Part 2

Instruction

Study the names and faces for a few minutes, and then turn to the next page, where the faces are printed without the names and see if you can remember the names. A few good strategies would include the following:

- 1 Say the name to yourself and make sure you have a clear mental image of the name.
- 2 Does the name suggest an image or an association to you? Make as many associations as possible.
- 3 Try to link the name to the face – pick out individual features – the more bizarre the association the better.
